

JACQUELINE GAY WALLEY, under the pen name Gay Walley, has been publishing short stories since 1988 and published her first novel, Strings Attached, with University Press of Mississippi (1999), which was a Finalist for the Pirates Alley/Faulkner Award and earned a Writer's Voice Capricorn Award and the Paris Book Festival Award. The Erotic Fire of the Unattainable: Aphorisms on Love, Art and the Vicissitudes of Life was published by IML Publications in 2007 and was reissued by Skyhorse Publishing 2015. This book, The Erotic Fire of the Unattainable was a finalist for the Paris Book Festival Award and from this, she wrote a screenplay for the film, The Unattainable Story (2016) with actor, Harry Hamlin, which premiered at the Mostra Film Festival in Sao Paulo, Brazil. Walley also wrote a screenplay for director Frank Vitale's docufiction feature film, Erotic Fire of the Unattainable: Longing to be Found (2020), which was featured in Brooklyn Film Festival, Sarasota Film Festival, Cinequest Film & Creativity Festival in San Jose, ReadingFilmFest, and American Fringe in Paris (2020). Her novel, Lost in Montreal (2013) was published by Incanto Press, along with the novel, Duet, which was written with Kurt Haber. Walley's e-books, How to Write Your First Novel, Save Your One Person Business from Extinction, and The Smart Guide to Business Writing are featured on Bookboon, as well as How to Keep Calm and Carry on Without Money and How to be Beautiful available on Amazon. In 2013, her play Love, Genius and a Walk opened in the Midtown Festival, New York, and was nominated for 6 awards including best playwright, in 2018, it also played in London at The Etcetera Theatre above The Oxford Arms pub as well as at three other pub theatres. It is scheduled to open in 2021 in Theatro Techni in London.

In October 2021, Jacqueline Gay Walley's 6 novel VENUS AS SHE AGES COLLECTION – Strings Attached (second edition, under her pen name, Gay Walley), To Any Lengths, Prison Sex, The Bed You Lie In, Write She Said, and Magnetism – is being launched worldwide through IML PUBLICATIONS and distributed by Ingram.

For more information regarding Jacqueline Gay Walley's VENUS AS SHE AGES Collection being launched on October 5, 2021, please contact IML Publications LLC at hello@imlpublications.com or access our websites at www.imlpublications.com or www.gaywalley.com